

WESTERN UNION MOBILE APP

6-Month Product Roadmap

Prepared July 31, 2026 · Senior Product Manager

Guiding Logic

Fix what is losing customers today before investing in what could win new ones tomorrow. Each phase builds on the reliability of the one before it — the app should not launch a stablecoin pilot on top of unresolved login bugs. Priorities below are sequenced directly from the findings of the current-state app report: identity-verification (KYC) delays and customer-support gaps are the most consistent complaints, while digital banking and the USDPT stablecoin are the two strategic growth bets.

Phase 1 — Stabilize · Months 1–2

Goal: stop the bleeding on the most-cited complaints before adding anything new.

Workstream	Initiative	Why it matters
Trust & onboarding	Cut KYC turnaround with better document-scanning UX and a visible "verification status" tracker	#1 complaint across Play Store / Trustpilot reviews; delays of weeks were reported
Support	Restore/expand in-app live chat for stuck transfers; add a self-serve "why is my transfer delayed" flow	Reviews repeatedly cite loss of human agents as the top frustration
Reliability	Fix cross-border login/account-linking bugs; stabilize the Android app (crash/freeze reports)	Explicitly called out in AU/EU Play Store reviews
Instrumentation	Baseline funnel analytics: onboarding drop-off, KYC time-to-approve, support ticket volume by category	Needed to prove Phase 1 impact before Phase 2 investment

Exit metric: KYC median approval time cut by 50%; app-store rating trend flat-to-up while fixes ship.

Phase 2 — Expand · Months 3–4

Goal: deepen engagement and retention once the core experience is trustworthy.

Workstream	Initiative	Why it matters
Digital banking	Expand WU+ digital account/card issuance to 1–2 new markets; add in-app card freeze/spend controls	Report flags this as the main lever against Wise/Revolut-style churn
Fee transparency	Redesign the pre-send rate/fee comparison screen to be more explicit about markup vs. mid-market	Directly addresses the "fees higher than competitors" complaint theme
Loyalty	Relaunch Rewards with tiered, usage-based benefits and a smarter referral flow	Currently underleveraged; sender frequency is a retention lever WU already owns
Payments	Broaden Apple Pay / Google Pay coverage to remaining top corridors	Well-liked existing feature — extend rather than reinvent

Exit metric: repeat-transfer rate up; WU+ account attach rate among core-app senders up in pilot markets.

Phase 3 — Pilot & Scale · Months 5–6

Goal: move on the strategic bet (USDPT) carefully, then consolidate learnings.

Workstream	Initiative	Why it matters
Stablecoin	Ship "Stable by Western Union" UI in-app for the announced pilot markets (Mexico, Philippines), with clear consumer education and compliance disclosures	WU's biggest 2026 strategic move — design/trust must be right before wider rollout
Fraud & compliance	Extend AI fraud monitoring to cover the new stablecoin rails	KYC is already the top complaint — a new product must not reopen that wound
Portfolio	Evaluate merging Self Service into the core app, or clarify in-app messaging on which app to use	Report notes the multi-app portfolio fragments the experience
Retro & re-plan	Full KPI review against Phase 1–3 targets; set the next 6-month roadmap based on pilot data	Standard PM cadence — don't scale the stablecoin blind

Exit metric: USDPT pilot adoption/usage in the two launch markets; no increase in fraud or support tickets attributable to the new rail.

Cross-Cutting, All Six Months

Track	Standing requirement
Security & compliance	Continuous, not a phase — every release above ships with its own SCA/PCI review, especially anything touching payments or the stablecoin rail.
Headline metrics	App-store rating and KYC time-to-approve are watched weekly; if either regresses, that supersedes new feature work.
